

Dinner with 12 Strangers

TALKING POINTS!

Q: What is Dinner with 12 Strangers?

A: Dinner with 12 Strangers is an exciting opportunity for students and Alumni to gather in a welcoming setting for great food and conversation. It's a chance to connect with Emory alumni, ask about life after college, and interact with both alumni and professors outside the classroom. It's a fantastic way to network, gain insights, and create lasting memories.

Q: How do I sign up to be a host?

A: D12 host registration is now open! You can register by visiting the D12 host website. If you have any questions, feel free to reach out to Theodore Ross at tross2@emory.edu.

Q: How many Students can I host?

A: The average group size typically ranges from 8 to 12 students, but hosts may accommodate as many or as few students as they feel comfortable hosting.

Q: Will Emory University reimburse me for dinner expenses?

A: Hosts are responsible for covering all dinner costs. However, hosts will receive an in-kind gift credit for documented dinner expenses (original receipts required). The in-kind gift amount can be allocated to an Emory school or designation chosen by the hosts. In the case of co-hosting, the credit can be split on the gift-in-kind form

Q: Is co-hosting an option for me?

A: Certainly! Embrace the excitement! Co-hosting with classmates, colleagues, friends, or your significant other is not only a fantastic opportunity but also a prestigious privilege. There are no constraints on the number of co-hosts you can enlist, so assemble your esteemed companions and embark on this exhilarating journey together!

Q: Why is my dinner not full

A: Students have the opportunity to register for dinners based on various factors such as professional interests, shared hobbies, or involvement in Emory activities. While we emphasize commitment expectations to students in all communications, it's important to note that late cancellations are possible. Students are responsible for notifying hosts of any changes that may arise.

Q: Can I host again?

A: Absolutely! Repeat hosts are not only welcomed but also greatly appreciated. Your continued participation and support contribute significantly to the success of the Dinner with 12 Strangers program. Thank you for your ongoing commitment!

Q: Other Questions?

A: Please don't hesitate to reach out to Theodore Ross at Theodore.Richard.Ross@emory.edu if you have any further questions or would like additional information about the program.
